TORONTO TIDINGS

Miss Annabel Thomson went up to Kitchener, on June 2d, where she spent that week-end with Miss Luella Strong, returning the following Monday evening.

Your correspondent visited the home of Mr. Ernest Hutchins out in Fairbank, on June 3d. Here he learned that his daughter, Molly, was very ill at the Weston Hospital, so the two, with his other daughter, Edna, went out to the hospital to see the afflicted one, as well as Miss Mabel Burke. They found Molly quite sick, but cheerful. Mabel is the same as usual.

Mrs. A. S. Waggoner, of Hamilton, was again in our midst over the week-end of June 2d, having come out to rehearse her class for the song service for convention Sunday. Judging by her frequent visits here and the nature of her missions, those who come to our convention are in for a big time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Buchan, who have been living in Indian Grove, in the Bloor-Kule Valley, have now moved to an apartment on Marion Street in the Parkdale section.

Mr. Charles R. Ford now sports a new motorcycle and it has a side box for business purposes.

Mr. Alex. Buchan, Jr., returned to his work in Chicago, on June 5th, after attending the funeral of his father the day previous.

Mr. John E. Crough and family called at "Mora Glen," on June 5th, to give the writer and Mrs. Roberts a farewell handshake. Here Mr. Roberts explained the nature of the prizes that will be given to the successful competitor at our forthcoming convention. As Jack is a famous athlete, he jokingly replied that he would be down for the races. Come along, old sport, and get a share of the tempting "melon."

Mr. J. R. Byrne, on speaking on "Why God is Love" at our service, June 3d, said it was because the whole world is more enlightened today than it was in the halcyon days of the pre-historic ages. Love enlightens the mind, refreshes the spirit and raises our ambitions to higher ideals of wisdom and harmony. That is what God Wants His Children to inherit. Miss Pearl Hermon rendered "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Miss Martha Cunningham and her parents, who have been sojourning all winter down on Florida's sun-kissed shores, have returned to this city. They recently figured in an auto accident down in Dixieland, but escaped with a few minor cuts and bruises, plus a couple of broken ribs to Martha's step-father.

We are pleased to say the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Crough, who was recently operated on here, is doing very nicely, and little Vivian will soon be around again.

Miss Loretta Kennaley, of Peterboro, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Gerald P. O'Brien, during the past fortnight, and at time of writing is trying to secure work here. In case she fails, she may try her luck in Detroit.

Mr. Nile Hodgson, the only surviving brother of Mrs. Mabel Wilson, of Philadelphia, is, we are sorry to report, very ill here at time of writing.

Would it not be great if Editor Hodgson of the JOURNAL could come over for our convention, as well as William A. Renner and bride. No doubt, they would all get a warm welcome. However, Mr. Hodgson informs the writer that he is coming over this year, anyway. Come on, old pals, and meet your friends over here.

Mr. Frank Cronkright, brother of Mrs. Nancy Moore, of Philadelphia, is very poorly just now, but we hope he will soon be out again. He is well known to many of the deaf here.

Mr. John E. Crough, who, in company with his sister-in-law, Miss Lucy Buchan, motored down from Walkerville, on June 3d, to attend the funeral of the latter's father, remained here till June 6th, when they returned to the "Border Cities." Mrs. Crough and three children, who came down a few weeks previously, will remain here until Mr. Crough comes again for our convention, after which the whole family will go home together.

On May 31st, while Mr. John Buchan was away at his work and Mrs. Buchan was out to see her then dying father-in-law, a mean night prowler entered their home on Indian Grove and ransacked the place, but all he got was a new suit of clothes. This young couple were lucky to escape with such a slight loss. The police are trying to catch the thief.

At time of writing, the deaf here will enter four teams in our convention soft-ball tournament, and here are the teams and their players: "The Maple Leafs"—George Elliot (capt.), Harry E. Grooms, Chas. R. Ford, Lorne Colclough, Fred Brown, Colin McLean, Gerald P. O'Brien, Jas. Kelly, F. E. Harris, Chas. Wilson and Marcel Warriner. "The Beavers"—Alonzo Maiola (capt.), Oscar McPeake, Charles Wilmot, Frank Peirce, Clifford Hunter, W. Hermon, Walter Narrie, F. Mandell, C. Rivet, W. W. Scott and Archie Durno. "The Olympians"—Joseph Goldman, (capt.), Louis Malinsky, Landan, Wall, Abrams, Mathews, Wm. Patterson, Richardson, George Hunter, Carman and George Goulding. "Union Jacks"—James R. Tate, (capt.), Chas. McLaughlin, J. T. Shilton, Asa Forrester, John Bushman, David Lawrence, John Wicks, Fred Terrell, W. Martel, and N. D. O'Neil. As will be seen by the above names, all four teams seem to be balanced. We understand teams will come from Buffalo, Brantford, Hamilton, London, Windsor, Kitchener, and Ottawa.

GONE TO THE SUNNY SHORE

Like the cool enchanting zephyrs of summer that pass into the chilly panoply of Autumn, we pass from this life, traverse through the Valley of Death and emerge into the great Kingdom of His Eternal Universe. Such is this destined for us. Only yesterday we bade a last farewell to two of our beloved friends, Mrs. Samuel Pugsley and Mrs. A. W. Mason and now goes another. Such is the snatching hand of death. After a lingering illness, following an unsuccessful operation, Mr. Alexander Buchan, Sr., died at five o'clock in the morning of June 2d, in the 64th year of this age. The news of his death caused widespread sorrow among his large circle of friends, who were grieved at such a loss.

Mr. Alexander Buchan, Sr., was born in 1864 in St. Combs, Scotland, and received his education at the school for the deaf over there. In 1889 he came over the briny deep and settled in Toronto, where he had lived ever since. He was and always followed the tailoring trade, at which he was an expert.

On January 9th, in 1891, he married Miss Fanny Smith, of Lumphanan, Scotland. By this union eight children were born, of whom five are now living. Like their parents, all are deaf, and were educated at the Belleville school. The children are Alexander, Jr., of Chicago, Mabel C. (deceased), Drusilla M. (now Mrs. John E. Crough, of Walkerville), John P. A. of the Toronto Postal Service, Fanny C. (deceased), Lucy E. of Walkerville, Margaret S. (deceased), and Carolina J. now at home.

On January 9th, last Mr. and Mrs. Buchan observed their thirty-seventh and last wedding anniversary, and as in previous years, was a notable event.

The deceased was a man of high social standing, with a quiet unassuming manner and very popular with all who knew him. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on June 4th, at Prospect Cemetery, following a service at his late residence.

The Rev. Harold Clugston officiated at both the house and the grave. He spoke very touchingly of the deceased's noble character and voiced very feelingly the great loss that was now sustained. A loving husband, father and friend had parted from us for all time in this life and gone beyond the shadows to join his three daughters who preceded him and to await our coming. The pallbearers were five nephews and one brother-in-law, Mr. George Wedderburn. The floral offerings were beautiful and very numerous, testifying to the great love and respect he held in the hearts of many. Our church, of which he was a member, sent a beautiful wreath, besides the family wreath, and one from his employer and fellow employees, from the Wedderburn family, from John Buchan's postal associates, and numerous others. To the bereaved ones we extend sincerest sympathy.

O friends, think not that he has gone—
He took his new-found wings and went Beyond this ken of all mankind
To God's fair regions of content.

BELL-JAMES NUPTIALS

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor at 70 West Avenue, North Hamilton, on Thursday afternoon, May 24th, when Miss Theresa James of that city became the bride of Mr. William George Bell, of Moose Jaw, Sask. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Taverner Hood, looked charming, gowned in a dress of white satin trimmed with pearls and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Mrs. Joseph Taylor, who acted as matron of honor, also looked prettily, attired in pink silk crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses. Mr. Joseph Taylor ably supported the groom.

Mr. Pritchard, of the Caroline St. Mission, officiated in the presence of a good number of relatives and friends. Among those present were noticed the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ferrier and three of her sisters, Mrs. Alice Tulton, Mrs. Taverner Hood and Mrs. George Ducheno, all of Hamilton, also Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Bayliss and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. August Quick, Mr. and Mrs. James Braven, Mrs. J. Lee, Mrs. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Salmon, Mrs. Hamilton, Miss Nellie Pool, Mr. Robert Mortimer and Mr. Jess Batstone, all of Hamilton, Mrs. Joseph Taylor, Sr., Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Scinger, all of Dundas; Robert Randall, of Paris; Mrs. Ida Cherry Robertson, of Preston; and Louis Slotnick, of Hespeler. After photos were taken of the wedding party, a dainty buffet luncheon was served, at which the beautifully decorated wedding cake was a feature.

The bride received many useful and beautiful presents. The happy couple left amid the best wishes of all for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, and points east, the bride wearing a going-away dress of taupe silk crepe de chine with blue trimmings, and coat and hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Bell will make their future home in Moose Jaw, Sask., where our best wishes go for a long happy married life.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

The Misses Sylvia Caswell and Helen A. Middleton, of Niagara Falls, went for a long auto ride to Montrose, Queenstown and St. David's, on June 3d, and enjoyed the outing immensely.

Mr. James P. Orr, of Milverton, was in Kitchener recently, visiting friends and rumor is now on the tapis that he and his "chosen one" will tread the roseate path that "binds," ere many moons.

On May 24th, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bartley and Mrs. George Elliott, of Long Branch, with Mr. and Mrs. Burchell, of Toronto, motored out to Milton, where they spent the day very pleasantly with Miss Clara Hartley on Sunnyside Fruit Farm. In the meantime they ascended the nearby mountain, know as Milton Heights, and were deeply enamored over the enchanting surroundings, a veritable blossomland at this time of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bell, of Oshawa, accompanied by their sister and a friend, of Toronto, motored down to Belleville, on May 24th, and spent the day with Mrs. J. C. Balis. They reported a good time and a delightful trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Seigler, of Pontiac, and Mr. and Mrs. William Riberdy, of Detroit, were in Ann Harbor, Mich., on May 30th, Decoration Day.

We are pleased to say that Mr. Cas. Sadows, of Detroit, has steady employment in the carpentering line at Woodland Beach, a suburb of the "Automobile City."

One of our old boys has been heard from, who is making the grade in the West. He is Mr. R. J. Dallaire, formerly of Ottawa, who is now occupying a good position on the staff of the Jasper National Park at Jasper, Alberta, in the Canadian Rockies. Romeo, in sending in a two years' subscription through the writer for the JOURNAL, says he likes it so much up in that famous resort and wants the JOURNAL to bring him the news of the outside world. You're right, old boy.

Dr. "Christy" Taylor, the well-known rugby foot-ball player, who has been signed by the Montreal "Big Four" for the fall gridiron classic, is a first cousin of Mr. John Taylor, of Singhampton.

The old pupils, who were pupils of Miss Mary Bull, now of Tavistock, will regret to hear that she is suffering with knee trouble. This, with the increasing weight of her advanced age, prevents her from getting around very much.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moynihan, of Waterloo, wish to thank the O. A. D. convention committee for sending them an invitation to attend the forthcoming gathering, but they fear they may not be able to come, owing to the latter's health, which can't stand the excitement and hustle that results at such functions, and besides they are about to bid their daughter, Beverly, good-bye, as she leaves to spend the summer with friends at Port Elgin and its environs. However, Mr. and Mrs. Moynihan wish the convention every success, and that President, Mrs. Waggoner will show what a woman can do while at the reins of such an important task.

As usual, the writer sends in his weekly batch of subscriptions for the JOURNAL, and the following go this week for R. J. Dallaire, of Jasper, Alberta, and Hamilton McBride, of Westmeath.

Is this a Fake?

ROCHELLE, ILL., May 4 (U. P.)—The Rochelle School for the Deaf has been closed because six of its seven pupils suddenly were endowed with powers of hearing at an evangelistic meeting, it was said here today.

The six children were born deaf, Miss Gertrude Birgen, their teacher, said. It was not until they attended a revival meeting, conducted by the Rev. F. F. Bosworth at Paul Rader's Chicago Gospel Tabernacle, were they able to hear.

The children were Mary Houston, 13; Russell Houston, 16; Sam Houston, 21; Elvira Houston, 23; Miles Parkman, 15; and Gayther Bellows, 11.

The remaining pupil of the deaf school, which was a public institution under the Board of Education, will be taken to the evangelistic meeting with the hope that he, too, can be cured.

Bosworth, who termed the incident a miracle, claims no spiritual healing powers.

Every successful man hears a lot about the luck of fools.

OMAHA.

The Lincoln Silent Club had its annual outing at Venice-on-the-Platte, on Sunday, May 28th. Many Omaha people joined them. They are all loud in their praise of this new summer resort. This club is planning a picnic to be held on July 1st, at some spot convenient to Lincoln, Omaha, and other towns within a radius of 150 miles. The purpose is to raise funds for the coming convention of the Nebraska Association of the Deaf.

Miss Ethel Wall, one of the 1927 graduates of the Nebraska school, has been in Los Angeles all last winter, and is now touring the northwest coast, having the time of her young life.

William Lambrecht, a young farmer from Wayne County, was in Omaha, Sunday, June 3d, having motored down with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hawkins have purchased a Willys-Knight coach. Mr. Hawkins hopes to finish his course at the Teachers' College at Pittsburg, Kansas, this summer. He goes to the North Carolina school next year as one of the industrial teachers. While their many friends regret to see them leave, they wish them the best of luck.

Miss Viola Cornell gave a Bridge party on June 6th, at the Nebraska school, in honor of her erstwhile school crony, Hilda Rundstrom, of Curtis, Neb., who was visiting friends in Omaha. Those present were former schoolmates. Miss Rundstrom left for home June 8th, promising to return for the N. A. D. convention.

A son of Mrs. Anna Dean died recently at Kearney, Neb. He had been confined to the State Hospital for Tuberculosis for a number of years. Mrs. Dean was at his bedside until the end.

It is rumored that Charles Marshall, a N. A. D. and Gallaudet graduate, who has been athletic director and coach at the Michigan school the past two years, will return to the Illinois school in the same capacity at a higher salary.

Miss Della Page, of Norcat, Kan., a 1927 graduate of the Nebraska school, is working in Omaha for Mrs. Hill, a teacher in the N. S. D. There is a bunch of beauties in Omaha at present.

Miss Johanna Stillahn, of Syracuse, Neb., was in Omaha with her sister, Mrs. Charles Macek, for a few days. She helps take care of her father, who is suffering from a paralytic stroke.

Mrs. Tom L. Anderson entertained at Bridge at her home in Council Bluffs, on Thursday afternoon, June 7th. There were six tables. As most of the guests planned on going away for the summer, Mrs. Anderson had tallies resembling suitcases and each guest was given a small pasteboard trunk containing candy. Mrs. Emma Seely won the first prize and Mrs. F. C. Holloway the consolation. The prospective travelers and their destinations are: Mrs. J. Schuyler Long, California; Mrs. William Thompson, Columbus, O.; Mrs. Charles E. Comp, California; Mrs. F. C. Holloway, ditto; Mrs. Oscar Treuke, Montana; Mrs. Glenn Hawkins, Morganton, N. C.; Mrs. Anton J. Netusil, probably Colorado. Mrs. Wesley Dobson and Miss Mary Dobson will motor wherever fancy leads them. Mrs. Tom L. Anderson will take short trips out of the State at intervals. Mrs. Ota C. Blankenship goes to Lincoln for the summer. Mrs. F. W. Booth and Mrs. O. W. McIntire were among those present. A lovely time, lovely eats, and a lovely home and hostess made the afternoon a pleasant memory.

Mrs. Edith O'Brien leaves for Los Angeles, Cal., on June 30th. Messrs. Charles Macels, Frank Trisler and J. Malvin Gomme have returned to work at the local Ford plant.

Fred J. Shaunesey, of Rochester, N. Y., listens nightly to radio entertainment with his fingers!

His ears won't do, for Shaunesey lost his speech and hearing at the age of six, after a severe illness.

But that didn't handicap him. As soon as radio became popular, he turned ed is inventive genius to building a radio receiver that he could use, despite his affliction.

He first built a small tube set and then constructed a unique, cone-type loud-speaker, that would enable him to "hear" by feeling the vibrations on the parchment. He made this from parts of a regular reproducing unit, fashioned after an invention of his own, and connected to an undersized cone parchment.

Sitting at his set, Shaunesey places his fingers on the cone and proceeds to tune in a station by means of his touch. Although he can distinguish talking in his reception, he can't tell what it's all about.

But he's as efficient in interpreting the musical sounds that come through his loud speaker as any more fortunate radio fan is. He can easily distinguish the various instruments being played and has become a severe critic on the type of music and the manner of playing.

Shaunesey lives here all alone, and, therefore, depends on his peculiar radio receiver for his enjoyment.—From Sovereign Visitor.

Portland, Oregon

Mrs. J. O. Reichle met with a bad accident, while cleaning house at her home. It happened when she fell backwards, tripping over something, and in falling she put her hand out, which struck the floor, breaking her wrist. Mrs. Reichle did not realize her danger until an X-ray examination showed the small bones were broke. According to her doctor, she will have to keep her hand in a cast six weeks.

Another accident, but not so serious as the one above, was that of Mrs. Fred Delaney, by a misstep, who sprained her ankle. It is said Mrs. Delaney injured that same foot years ago.

At the time of this writing, Portland is having its annual Rose Festival, with plenty of roses all over the city. Sure, this the real Rose City.

Mr. and Mrs. Barr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. M. Bennick, have exchanged their old car for a brand new Durant sedan. Mrs. Bennick, one of Portland's oldest deaf ladies, was seventy-seven years of age recently, and is as lively as a woman of thirty-five. She can be found at most every social and entertainment among the Portland deaf. Mrs. Bennick lost her husband many years ago, when a street car ran off a Portland bridge into a deep river. Some seven or ten persons were drowned. Mrs. Bennick has lived in Portland over forty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hastings have now bought two pretty Wilton rugs, along with their fine davenport floor lamps, and two chairs to match the davenport. The outfit cost over $500. So you can imagine what a cozy home they have now.

The O. A. D. convention will be over by the time this news reach the readers. Let us go out to Centralia, Wash., for two days of fun at the Portland-Seattle Frat Picnic, on Saturday and Sunday, July 28th and 29th. There will be many races and a big baseball game between Portland and Seattle. Borst Park is a short distance north of town, with plenty of camping ground and about thirty-five cabins with garage. A store and place to eat are on the grounds. Saturday night entertainment, dance and card playing, until midnight. We are expecting the Mayor of Centralia to open the ball game, with other city officials. Come one, come all, and if married O. K. Even forget that while at the Half-Way Picnic.

BUFFALO

Anyone interested in the 1930 N. A. D. convention, and desiring information and free literature should write to A. L. Sedlowsky, Secretary Convention Committee, 89 Walnut Street, Buffalo, N. Y. News from outlying sections of Buffalo and Western New York intended for this column should be sent to same address.

The Misses Agnes Palmgreen and Metha Kinn attended the Y. W. C. A. Professional and Business Girls' Club banquet, which was held at the Central Y. M. C. A. on Monday, June 11th. Miss Kinn gave a solo dancing exhibition for the guests. Later in the evening a few of the Kicuwa Club members dropped in and joined the girls. All reported a delightful time.

For the benefit of those who failed to read our previous announcements in the JOURNAL, we wish to repeat that there will be no outing or picnic by the La Salle-Niagara Falls deaf on July 4th. That affair has been postponed, owing to conflicting dates. We regret very much misleading anyone, but in this instance it couldn't be helped. Watch these columns for announcements as to affairs given in Buffalo and Western New York.

The Kicuwa Club closed its doors for the season, with a last meeting on Wednesday, June 13th. A little party was given to celebrate the last night. Members will resume their activities early next fall. The officers are considering plans for a banquet, which will be held at the Statler early in the fall. The general public will be cordially invited. Full details will appear in these columns later.

Miss Charlotte Schwagler will be chairman of the Kicuwa Club picnic, to be held in Ebenezer, N. Y., on Saturday, September 15th. She will be assisted by all members of the organization. Every one is welcome.

On May 30th, some of the Kicuwa girls journeyed to Rochester, to visit their friends. Miss Martha Wells, of Batavia, joined Miss Agnes Palmgreen on the trip. Both were the guests of their friend, Mrs. Lawrence Samuelson. They found their hostess and little daughter enjoying their usual good health.

A large party of Buffalo deaf are planning to take in the Rochester Alumni reunion on June 16th and 17th. Among these who will take in the affair are the Kicuwa Club members, Messrs. Coughlin, Sedlowsky, Weil, Synder, Clemen and their families. And many others too numerous to mention.

During the coming summer, bridge parties will be the popular pastime among the Kicuwa girls. Each member will give a bridge party in her home in turn each week.

Miss Martha Wells, of Batavia, was the guest of Miss Agnes Palmgreen the other week-end. Miss Palmgreen had a little gathering in her home of her friends in honor of Miss Wells' presence. The Misses Iva Ford, of Niagara Falls, and Louisa Brietenbach, of North Tonawanda, will be guests of Miss Palmgreen this coming week-end. At present Miss Palmgreen is house-keeping for her father, while her mother is in Ohio, recuperating her health after a recent illness.

The parents of Miss Charlotte Schwagler will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 24th, with a gathering of relatives at their home in Ebenezer, N. Y.

Mr. Charles N. Snyder and family, of Lockport, will start on their annual vacation the last week of June and will return to their home after the first week in July. They are planning a motor tour of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and nearby points. We hear that Mr. Snyder intends selling his present home in Lockport and settling down in Tonawanda, in order that Mr. Snyder may be nearer the N. A. D. activities, as he is one of the most active members.

THE "Porter Number" of the Silent Worker, made public a lot of facts concerning the genial George, so all the I.p.f. editors should rejoice that they are his "brothers of the quill." But we can attest the fact that all the good things said of him were well deserved and in no sense exaggerated expressions of good-will. Long life and success to George Sidney Porter.

In the interests of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, President Gibson's tour among the Divisions that border on the Atlantic Coast and east of Chicago, was a great success. His personality and broad-minded views excited enthusiasm whenever he addressed the deaf from the platform. He radiates brotherly love and tells potent truths among the deaf people, whether they are Frats or non-Frats. Especially directed towards the welfare of the Fraternity, he was in no wise slow in elucidating the necessity of being good American citizens. To make for success and a happy life, there is much more than mere pocket gains to be considered. The wisdom, character, and general welfare of all the class which people know as deaf-mutes is involved.

THE subjoined is one more sample of the guff fed to the general public which tends to distress and handicap real deaf-mutes. For, of course, in the public mind the "mute" is classed as an "unfortunate dummy," when he may be but a clever impostor, who holds his tongue and can hear everything. It might be, however, that a sock in the throat, while engaged in a prize fight, paralyzed the vocal chords. Nevertheless he is not a deaf-mute, but the thoughtless public will associate him in their minds as such. Therefore all the genuine deaf-mutes—the industrious, law-abiding, home-loving citizen—will be the victims of erroneous opinion.

MUTE "KING OF TRAMPS"

Al Kaufman, 18-year-old mute "king of tramps" is the guest of Lewis O. Tirrell, manager of the Hendrick Hudson Hotel. Kaufman says that he lost his speech while in a prize fight in San Jose, California. He is traveling around the country in the hope of regaining his speech. In his travels he visits all the hotels of the country free of charge as the guest of the various managers. Kaufman says his father was Sir Arthur Kaufman an aide de camp to King George of England, up to the time of his death. Since then he has traveled all over the world and has become quite adept in the use of the pencil and paper for answering questions. He has taken part in several pictures, the last of which was "College Days," in which he assumed a juvenile role. He is said to be a close rival of One Eye Connally in game crashing.

Kaufman expects to remain here for two more days and then he will go north.

Harold McQuade, of Albany, N. Y., was a visitor at the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, on Sunday June 17th.

IN DIXIELAND

Mrs. Ida Victoria Holland, 62, wife of A. J. Holland, died at the family home, 435 1-2 North Palmetto Street, Seabreeze, Dayton Beach, Florida, at 2:30 A.M., Sunday, June 3, 1928.

Mrs. Holland was a native of Georgia, but had made this city her permanent home for the past fifteen years, coming here in 1913. Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, and one daughter: Carl Holland, of St. Augustine; Luther Holland, of Akron, Ohio; Ardine Holland, of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Eugene Hogle, of St. Augustine. All members of the family are deaf-mutes.

Funeral services were conducted from the family residence, with Dr. Edmund D. Webber, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Pine-wood Cemetery.—Florida Exchange.

Mr. James Stallings, of Lithonia, has abandoned the barbering business and is arranging to enter the Southern School of Printing at Nashville, Tenn., to learn to be a linotype operator. At the rate the Atlanta and Georgia deaf are flocking to this school, Nashville will soon have about half of Atlanta's deaf population. We fear this trade will soon be overcrowded, at the rate our deaf are taking it up as a vocation. It takes an exceptional bright mind to make good at this trade, and we would advise our friends to think well and ask themselves if they really possess stability enough to make good at it, before they waste their time and money trying to master a trade that a great many are totally unfit to take up.

Mr. William R. Jones, of Lithonia, has recovered from his recent operation sufficiently to be removed to his home, where we are told that he is convalescing very nicely. He will appreciate visits from his old friends at any time. Drive by and see him when you are out that way in your car.

Miss Annie McDaniel, instructor at the Georgia School for the Deaf, will spend her summer vacation in Atlanta. Her mother has resigned from the Cave Spring school and moved to this city, where she will open a select boarding house. Miss Annie will remain with her until school opens again in the fall.

The big "Fraternal" to be held under the auspices of the local Frat division, will open Wednesday, July 4th, and extend through to and including Saturday night, July 7th, when it will close with a "Smoker," for men only. The Nadfrat Woman's Club will assist the Frats in entertaining the visitors throughout their stay in the city. With the Frats and the Nadfrats co-operating to give you a good time, you can be assured of "high class" entertainment. It is this close co-operation between the Frats and the Nadfrats that has helped to make Atlanta's deaf colony known the nation over.

Not much news here just now. As soon as this writer gets free of the dentist's chair she intends to spend the balance of the summer motoring about the country. In fact, our whole family is planning to rent out our house and live in our car, and it will be like this:

All our folks
Are discontented;
Our home's a car,
Our house is rented.

ARTHUR T. BAILEY DEAD.

Arthur Bailey, aged thirty-five years, died, in Winnipeg, Man., Canada, on Friday morning, June 15th, 1928.

It is not stated where he was buried. But the Albany Division, No. 51, N. F. S. D., have exerted themselves to see that proper respect is done the remains. Through Harold McQuade, Harry Barnes and others, report was made to Frat headquarters, and President Gibson personally secured quite a sum for the decent burial of the ex-Frat. For Bailey had severed his connection with the society many years ago.

Arthur T. Bailey was one of the charter members of the Albany Division, and for one or more terms its president. To his activity, much of its growth and present popularity can be attributed.

He obtained his education at the New York (Fanwood) Institution, and for a great many years was a follower of "the Art Preservative." Until he departed for Winnipeg, Manitoba, he worked as monotype operator for the Maqua Printing Company of Schenectady. At that time, he studied for the ministry of the Episcopal Church, being directed by the late Rev. Harry Van Allen. He was of considerable help in the large mission field of Central New York State.

He was a sunny-hearted enthusiastic Frat, and devoted to the interests of his order. As a man, he was very companionable, kind-hearted and exceptionally popular. All who knew him will sorrow over his death.

Edward P. Clarke, formerly a teacher at the Fanwood school, and later Principal of the Rome, N. Y., School for the Deaf, is now employed as a proof-reader on the New York Herald-Tribune.

Wilkesburg, Pa.

In a previous letter we stated that Miss Helen Allabough would be a member of the training class at the Edgewood school in the fall. Later advices prove this to be a mistake. Miss Helen has considered such a step, but could not make the necessary arrangements. She states, now, she will go to Gallaudet as a normal student for her training. We are glad Gallaudet can afford her the necessary assistance to fit her for the work as a teacher of the deaf.

June 8th, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zelig gave a delightful radio-optic entertainment at the W. S. C. Hall, much to the entertainment of a large gathering. The pictures thrown on the large screen were, on the whole, very interesting and among them were portraits of prominent people and famous places, numbered from 1 to 16, and there was a contest to see who could recognize the most of these as they appeared on the screen. The contest added interest to the exhibition and made a try for the prizes offered for the most accurate list. Mr. Reed Krotzer took the gentleman's prize, a tobacco and smoking set, with a full list of correct answers. The winner of the lady's prize, a salad dressing dish, has not been discovered yet. Her designation is number 9.

The entertainment under the auspices of the P. S. A. D. branch, June 9th, was a success, as it deserved to be. There were about forty present and $9.50 or more was netted for the benefit of the Torresdale home. Interest in the Home is still on tap in Pittsburgh, despite many discouragements.

It has been definitely announced that Mr. Truman Ingle, assistant superintendent of the Edgewood school, would retire at the end of this school term. He has accepted the position as manager of the San Francisco office of an automobile finance company and will take charge of some time in the early fall. Mrs. Ingle also retires to accompany her husband to the Pacific coast. Doubtless it is to their personal advantage to make this change, but what is their gain is apparently a loss to the school. Wherever they go, we wish them success, however, and may they prosper.

June 16th, was Alumni Night at the school. Mr. Manning issued invitations to the alumni and their friends to come in force and observe what has been accomplished there the past year. A large assembly of alumni and their friends responded and were well pleased with the demonstrations presented in the chapel and the various departments of the school. Much improvement all around was observed with considerable satisfaction. After the inspection refreshments were served by Mrs. Manning and her assistants, so altogether it was a very satisfactory entertainment. The greater number of the local alumni were present, and among those from the distance we noted: Leo Zielinski, of the South Side; Frank Widaman, of Greensburg; Ide Kinney, of Turtle Creek; John Smith, of Mt. Pleasant; Mr. William Sine and family, of Toronto, Ohio, and many others we failed to meet.

Mr. J. Smith was not looking as robust as usual, but he accounted for that by stating he had but recently left the hospital, where he had an operation for ruptured blood vessel. He was recovering, however, and taking much interest in affairs, as evinced by his coming down to meet his fellow alumni at the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Havens had the pleasure of entertaining an old friend, Mrs. Simon Alley, of Washington, D. C., recently. They were all at the Alumni Night, entertainment where Mrs. Alley met a number of friends and acquaintances of former years. In the large crowd, we had only a chance for an introduction. Mrs. Alley's stay in Pittsburgh was all too brief, as she left for her Washington home the following Wednesday.

Rev. Collins Sawhill, of Cleveland, conducted service at Trinity chapel, Pittsburgh, Sunday evening, June 17th, to a good-sized audience. His friends hereabouts turned out in force to greet the old timer, who in time past lived in their midst. Mrs. Sawhill accompanied her husband and his numerous friends were glad to welcome her—a pleasant appearing lady, indeed. During their stay here of ten days or so, they were accommodated by his brother, W. L. Sawhill, and his sister, Mrs. Stout. They were also entertained at the W. S. C. hall, Wednesday evening. Mr. Zelig set up his radio-optic and projected a number of old timers on the screen. This served to show how they looked in "salad days." Mr. Sawhill also entertained with some reminiscence of his and Mr. Bardes' baseball experiences, when they were young and single. But from the accounts it does not appear that they made the money jingle. Their club made a tour through Ohio and New York, but the jinks seemed to follow them and they finally landed in New York City stranded. They finally got home, and now can joke over their experiences, but at the time it, certainly, was no laughing matter.

After a round of visits among friends, both deaf and hearing, Mrs. Sawhill left for Memphis, Tenn., her old home, where she will visit during the summer, while Mr. Sawhill will visit his daughter, Mabel, in Birmingham, Ala., later on.

Today, June 21st, the Rolshouses are all afutter, because their cousin, Miss Dolly Marshall, of Aspinwall, will be married at a church wedding this evening. Miss Carolyn will be one of the several bridesmaids, and it promises to be a mighty interesting affair for all concerned.

Tomorrow, June 22d, is closing day at the Edgewood school, and pupils and teaching staff are glad to get off the frying pan for a brief spell. The past term has been strenuous to all, but satisfactory as to results in all departments, so there's reason to be glad. G. M. T.

PHILADELPHIA

On the afternoon of June 13th last, Francis P. Gibson, M.A., Grand President of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, arrived here from Washington, D. C., where Gallaudet College had just conferred upon him the honorary degree of Master of Arts. He came here ostensibly to deliver a lecture or talk before the members and friends of Philadelphia Division No. 30, N. F. S. D., in the Grand Fraternity Building, 1626 Arch Street, where a crowd of one hundred and fifty or more greeted him, although very few of his friends had as yet been apprised of the honor conferred upon him by Gallaudet College. Later in the evening, it became known to everyone present.

After modestly disclaiming that he had come to deliver a lecture, he gave a highly interesting talk on "America Only," as distinct from America First. While the underlying idea of his talk seemed to be to boost the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf as the greatest achievement of the deaf collectively in America, he showed also how the huge success of the society was peculiar to "America Only." In no other nation in the world have the deaf equaled the success of this American society, nor even approached it. Mr. Gibson cleverly and entertainingly brought out other facts to show wherein the advancement of the deaf was greatest in "America Only," where numbers were considered. He certainly proved to be the easy, prolific and interesting talker which he is reputed to be, and it seems needless to say that his talk was enjoyed by all who saw it.

Afterwards Mrs. Gibson, who had accompanied her husband here, was called forward and every one given an opportunity to meet her. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William L. Davis during their short stay here.

Mrs. Cyrus O. Hackman, of Pine Grove, Pa., has been in the city for a week and may remain a while longer to receive medical treatment. Mr. Frederick Buch is dangerously ill in St. Joseph's Hospital.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dantzer on the 17th of June. It is their second child.

J. Howard Arnold, father of our Howard E. Arnold, passed away after many weeks' illness on June 13th. His funeral was held at Armstrong's Funeral Parlor, 1927 North Broad Street, on the following Saturday. We extend sincere sympathy to Mr. Arnold.

Mrs. Simon B. Alley, of Washington, D. C., was a recent guest of Mrs. George B. Wilson in this city.

The Mt. Airy school closed earlier than usual this year.

Mr. Joseph Flynn has been elected Philadelphia delegate to the convention of the Knights and Ladies of De l'Epee, to be held in Cincinnati, Ohio, in July.

Miss Mae A. Ziegler, granddaughter of Mr. Robert M. Ziegler, graduated from the John W. Hallahan Catholic Girls' High School, on June 12th. She was President of the Government Association of that school.

Mr. Joseph Mayer surprised his friends by appearing at the recent Gibson lecture. He had been an inmate of the Hamburg (Pa.) Sanatorium for a couple of years. He told us that he does not intend to return to the sanatorium.

Mrs. Helen R. Wilson will spend the summer at Atlantic City, as usual. She will locate at No. 12 N. Vassar Place, Ventnor.

Mr. and Mrs. Reider received a visit from his brother, George S. Reider, and two of his children, of the Oley Valley, above Reading, on June 17th. On the same day, Mr. and Mrs. Reider's daughter, Mrs. S. O. Honsermyer, who had been visiting for two weeks, was joined by her husband from York, Pa. All the visitors returned to their respective homes in the evening.

The Smaltz family expects to spend the entire month of July at Wildwood, N. J.

The Clerc Literary Association held its quarterly business meeting on Thursday evening, June 14th.

July 1st is soon at hand. The deaf will be so scattered through the summer that it will be difficult for the writer to collect news items, and so we again ask our friends to help by sending us items of news about the deaf. Address such items to J. S. Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Superintendent Frank W. Booth spoke of the first school at Hartford, Ct., which his parents attended in 1817. Later they moved to Anamosa, Ia., and he taught at the Iowa school. The voice development and rhythm work was very interesting, and the presentation of awards to athletic teams and prizes to individuals were highly appreciated. As Nick Peterson, the school's coach, mounted the platform there was a thunderous applause. Mr. Glenn Hawkins, boys' supervisor, announced the names of those who won cash prizes for the best behavior and using more influence on the other pupils, thus:

First, Joseph Purpura; second, Earl Peterson and James Lloyd; third, John Howsden; fourth, Bennie Kober; fifth, Berdette Adams, Joseph Renner, Charles Williams and David Owens. Below is the class roll and essays:

Robert Willey Riecker, Beatrice, Class Will.
John Edward Zagurski, Omaha, Valedictory.

Mrs. Carrie A. Birss addressed the graduates for nearly an hour, Mrs. O. W. Hendee interpreting. Among the out-of-town visitors were Edward Engel, of Friend; Marion Campbell, of Cedar Bluffs, and Annie Cunningham, a 1927 graduate, of Ayr.

There will be an all-day I. A. D. benefit picnic at the Iowa school grounds, July 4th. We understand that plans are under way for a big celebration. Ladies are requested to bring boxes containing lunch for two, to be sold. A prize will be given for the most attractive box. Another prize for autoist driving the longest direct distance to the picnic, one to the out-of-town autoist, bringing in the largest load of people the full distance, and one to the out-of-town autoist bringing in the fattest lady. There will also be prizes for games and contests, and fireworks in the evening. The Council Bluffs committee wants all friends of the I. A. D. to join them for a glorious Fourth and help a worthy cause.

Miss Edith Anderson and Ziba L. Osmun were married at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, at 4:30 p.m., Sunday, June 10th. Albert Krohn was witness and Rev. Skire officiated. They spent several days at Spirit Lake, Ia., and came to Omaha the following Friday to occupy a furnished house at 3024 North 50th Street, Benson, where they will reside for the present. Miss Anderson left Omaha in March to teach sewing at the Faribault, Minn., school and Mr. Osmun took along his car and brought her home. A large number of friends surprised them on Friday evening, June 22d, at their home, where Scott Cuscaden managed to be invited for supper. They brought along a dandy combination electric waffle iron and griddle. Mr. Osmun gave a brief account of the affair and a mock wedding was held with Mr. and Mrs. Osmun as the principals. Harry G. Long "played" the wedding march and Tom L. Anderson tied the "uncanny" knot, which was followed by a shower of rice. Miss Katharine Slocum and Scott Cuscaden were the bridesmaid and best man respectively. Ice-cream and cake were served and several mischievous guests tied "Just Married" signs on the car, tacked some on the house, laid several on the lawn and put the car out of commission temporarily. The newlyweds passed the "smokes" and candy. They have the congratulations of a host of friends in Nebraska and surrounding States.

FANWOOD ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OUTING

June, 1928, will be remembered for years to come by the present generation on account of its rainy day record, and also by the Fanwood Alumni Association, especially Saturday, June 23d, for on that day it was the Alumni Association's annual outing to Indian Point. Despite the threatening condition in the early morning, it didn't dampen the ardor of the members and their friends, especially the young ones. This year they went on the steamer "De Witt Clinton," about 125 of them, and enjoyed the sail up the historic Hudson, both up the river and their stay at the beautiful park "Indian Point," which is owned by the Day Line Steamboat Company. After lunch most of the picnickers gathered near the pavilion, and several games were pulled off, for which the prizes were donated by Mr. Archie McL. Baxter.

The winners: Treasure Hunt—Ben. Ash and Mrs. Sol Garson. Broad Jump—John Uhl and Miss Marjorie Donovan. Throwing the Ball—Nick Cairano and Marjorie Donovan.

The entire day was devoid of sunshine, but there was no rain till far into the evening, after the boat had brought all back to New York.

LEXINGTON AVENUE SCHOOL

The following is taken from the New York Times of Saturday, June 16th, of the closing exercises of the Lexington Avenue School, at 904 Lexington Avenue, New York City:—

Boys and girls of all ages, all almost totally without hearing or power of speech, performed intricate feats of gymnastics and dancing yesterday morning at the closing exercises of the Institution for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes, 904 Lexington Avenue.

A feature of the exercises was recitation by two groups of winners of recently held speech tournaments. A short but clearly worded dialogue was given by the intermediate speech group, comprising Josephine Damato, Clifford Dochtermann, David Feller, Shirley Frank, Robert Hoffman, Ben Israelowitz, Anna Kirschner, Gertrude Levine, Sylvia Miller and Dominick Sbarro. The advanced speech group, Sam Cohen, Carlton Francis, Bertram Frankenstein, Hyman Kirschner, Yetta Koenig, Constance Miller, Joseph Philittiere, Emanuel Rosenthal, Philip Schwartz, Michael Schoknowitz, Anna Weiss and Philip Wecker, recited the Twenty-third Psalm in unison.

A class of three in Teachers Training School received diplomas from Sidney Rossman, a member of the Board of Trustees. They were the Misses Mary Timoney, Margaret Breakey and Margaret Van Cleft.

The Theodore Stanfield Prize Essay, written by Emanuel Rosenberg, was read by a teacher, Miss Marion Atwood.

St. Ann's Church guild room was quite well filled on Thursday, June 14th, when Mr. Francis P. Gibson, President of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, occupied the platform and gave a very good address. It dealt principally with the N. F. S. D., but expanded and extolled good American citizenship. Rev. Mr. Kent made a few preliminary remarks and then gave place to Mr. A. L. Pach, who introduced Mr. Gibson as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Gibson held the rapt attention of all present for considerably over an hour, and was lustily applauded at the close. After general conversation for half an hour, during which Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were the center of attention by the admiring throng, ice cream and cake was served under the direction of Mrs. McCuskey and Mrs. Lieberz. There was a terrific rain storm all evening, otherwise fair weather would have brought such a crowd that comfort would not have been known.

Reverend and Mrs. John H. Kent entertained Mr. and Mrs. Gibson at dinner before the evening's events, and also had as guests: Mrs. E. Rappolt, Miss Alice Judge and Messrs. Harry Pierce Kane and Alexander L. Pach, both Past Grand Officers of the N. F. S. D., who served with Mr. Gibson.

Mr. Emil Basch one morning in May found a beautiful lady's handbag in Hamilton Park, and on opening it found it contained about twenty-five dollars in bills and currency, but no address as to whom it belonged. So he brought the bag to the nearest Police Station, at 152d Street and Amsterdam Avenue, leaving his name and address.

In the afternoon of the same day as he was about to go out, a man called to see him. He was the husband of the lady who lost the handbag. After ascertaining that Mr. Basch was the finder of the bag, he gave him a five-dollar bill as a reward.

Paul J. DiAnno, well known as "Dummy Burns," had a farewell party for his wife, formerly Katherine Kiely, of Boston, Mass., at Mr. and Mrs. C. Cleary's home Saturday night, June 16th. They presented some beautiful gifts to Mrs. DiAnno and enjoyed themselves. She went with her two children to Marblehead, Mass., by the Eastern Steamship line, Sunday, to stay with her parents there for three months. Besides Mr. and Mrs. DiAnno, the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John J. Stigiabotti, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cosgrove, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cleary, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gabriel, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Call, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Millazzo, Mrs. H. Lieberz, Mrs. Rita, Mrs. Agnes Brown, Mrs. J. H. McCluskey and Mr. Peter Gortz.

The Sheephead Bay Country Club enjoyed the first of its series of sea-food dinners on Saturday, June 16th. Among the members and guests present to enjoy the sea-food treat were Rev. and Mrs. Braddock, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pierce Kane, Misses Jean Wolverton and Alice Studt, Mrs. De Carvey and Messrs. Pach and Beadell. The trip down on the Iron-steamer gave an added zest to the affair, and the evening was spent hunting for new sensations at Coney Island.

The Bonheur girls gave a social party at the home of one of the members, Goedie Aaronson's aunt at Weehawken, N. J.

The party was enjoyed by all, even though the weather was so bad. They played games and enjoyed a most delicious supper and refreshments.

The following gentlemen were also there: Messrs. Dave Bagdon, Abe Barr, Lester Cohen, Harry Hersch, Joe Ossell, Abe Raboff, Abe Rubin, Charlie Sussman, Meyer Weinberger.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Timer spent the week-end of Saturday, June 9th, in Scranton, Pa. They autoed there from their Jersey home in Mr. John Kehane's auto. In Scranton they were the guests of Mrs. Frank Littlefield. Mr. Kehane is a resident of Bloomfield, N. J., and through his skillful driving they were able to view some of the most beautiful scenery they ever set eyes on, and consider it a most wonderful trip.

Among the recent visitors to New York, and to the school at Fanwood, was Mrs. Charles B. Shattuck, of Cohocton, N. Y. Old time Fanwood graduates will remember her as the amiable, beautiful and intellectual Bella Fisher. She had not seen her Alma Mater since her graduation, over forty years ago. She was amazed at the city's surroundings, for where in her day there were trees and wild flowers and cow-pastures, she now beheld palatial and tall apartment buildings. While in New York, she was the guest of Miss Myra Barrager.

Mr. Edward F. Elkin, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Elkin, was married to Miss Lillie Lenahan, of New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y., on Saturday, June 16th. They honeymooned for two weeks, most of the time in Albany, N. Y.

The new officers of the Hebrew Association of the Deaf, who were elected some time ago, are as follows: Sol Garson, President; Moses Schnapp, First Vice-President; Mrs. H. Plapinger, Second Vice-President; Alfred Ederheimer, Secretary; Henry Plapinger, Treasurer; Jack Ebin, Max Miller and Mrs. Sol Garson, Trustees.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roberts are back in New York City, living with a nephew. They gave up their former country residence at Bayshore, L. I., on account of failing health.

A social party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. Pincaus on the 16th inst. A big crowd of their friends attended and enjoyed it immensely. Games were played and refreshments served. Handsome prizes were given to the winners.

Mr. Israel Solomon has been on the sick list the past two weeks. He underwent an operation for an ailment, and at this writing, June 21st, is on the way of recovery, at his home in the Bronx.

Mr. Dean E. Tomlinson, his wife (Louise Turner) and two children were in New York last week, as guests of Rev. John H. Kent and Gertrude Turner Kent. They left Monday for the summer home of Mrs. Tomlinson's sister, at Manomet. June 21st, Mr. Tomlinson made a brief, but interesting address to the Mens' Club of St. Ann's Church.

Miss Mary Hornstein and Mr. Marcus H. Marks were betrothed on Wednesday, June 6th, 1928.

Emil Basch rounded out his fifty-second year as a New Yorker two week ago, having come from Germany in 1876—the Centennial year.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Morgenstern, on the 24th of June. This is their second child.

Miss C. M. Croft is now a resident of Washington, D. C., having moved last week, when her brother, Colonel Croft, was appointed to a post there from Governor's Island, New York City.

SEATTLE

After taking the matter under consideration for a couple weeks, Rev. G. W. Gartner, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Our Redeemer for the Deaf here, has declined the call extended him by a Chicago hearing congregation. The decision has caused great rejoicing among the Seattle members, as he would be hard to replace.

Lawrence Belser has been quite ill with tonsillitis the past four weeks and recently an operation was performed. He has begun to improve.

Mrs. John Dortero has had such a tussle with influenza the past two months that she is still confined to her home. The removal of her tonsils was performed a few days ago and it is hoped she is on the way to recovery.

What was to be a unique birthday party took place June 2d at the Wright's home. Lawrence Belser was induced to work up a party for Mrs. W. S. Root, and the latter in turn was set to working up one for Mr. Belser. The double surprise was upset by the illness of Larry, who was not able to attend. However, a purse of $3.50 was presented to each. Mrs. Root bought an electric toaster. About forty friends were present at the party.

Robert Rogers, of Ellensburg, motored over Snoqualmie Pass two weeks ago to visit a sick sister. After greeting as many friends as possible and after visiting the Thursday social at the Lutheran hall, he started back on his return the same day. He says the pass is passable, but that is about all, as several construction crews are at work building a fine new road, which will eliminate some of the horseshoe curves on the route. The road will likely be in poor condition all summer.

Marion, the charming daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bertram, graduates from Franklin High School this week. Every year the scholar who, it is decided by the school, has been of the most value to her class, has her name engraved on a silver inspiration cup, and this year Marion was elected to the high honor. As an extra reward, her father and mother presented her with a $47 wrist watch. Miss Bertram, who has been the president of the High School girls the past term, is the first child winning the two honors among the children of deaf parents in Seattle. Congratulations to the Bertrams.

The weekly Thursday socials at the Lutheran hall have been discontinued for the summer. They will be resumed in the fall.

If any of the deaf from other States are touring the Pacific coast this summer, they should bear in mind the dates July 28th and 29th, and stop at Centralia for the Portland-Seattle midway picnic. Two days of fun and enjoyment will be on tap, as usual.

For the first time in years, the P. S. A. D. has made no arrangements for an annual Fourth of July picnic.

Those who have not arranged to motor to distant lakes or mountains, will join with the Tacoma people in their picnic at Spanaway Lake. A splendid boat ride on the sound and a short street-car ride makes it convenient for those who do not own automobiles.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble, of Vancouver, British Columbia, have been spending a few days in Seattle.

Bryan Wilson, after working several months at Snoqualmie Falls in the big Weyerhaeuser mill, is back in town. He has a job with a portable house concern for the present.

Mr. Ward Small, of Santa Barbara, wrote to Lawrence Belser of his coming up to beautiful Puget Sound this summer. Mr. Small, an illustrator and designer, and Larry used to attend the Northampton school together. M. J. Clark entertained Mrs. Jack Bertram and Mr. and Mrs. Wright at his apartment at "500" the other evening. Mr. Clark's daughter, Izora, served dainty refreshments, assisted by Miss Marion Bertram.

John Adams and Roy Harris caught eighty trout on both of their trips recently to Griffith Creek near the Tolt River.

Alice Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claire Reeves, won a prize for making the best skirt at the Garfield High School. It is a large hat and a silk scarf, very becoming on Alice.

Mrs. Claude Ziegler's birthday party supper, arranged by Mrs. Sallie Clark at the former's home, was very nice. She received several useful and acceptable gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bertram took the Wrights in their Studebaker to Lake Lucerne one Sunday and found it a beautiful spot, one of the best they had seen. The resort has a fine bathing beach, bath house, cabins, and a community kitchen.

On Decoration Day, Mr. and Mrs. L. Belser took the Root family in their Star car to Vashon Island, crossing the sound on a ferry. They enjoyed the drive about the island and to Boston.

PUGET SOUND

JUNE 11, 1928

OHIO

The sports section of the Columbus Sunday Dispatch carried the following article under a good likeness of Mr. Albert W. Ohlmacher, who has won quite an enviable reputation as an umpire:—

Mr. Ohlmacher, for years an instructor at the Ohio State School for the Deaf, has umpired recreation ball games for the city recreation department for five years. He formerly coached baseball, basket-ball and football, but declares he rarely played as a youth. He neither speaks nor hears.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil A. Grigsby announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Anna Mae, to Mr. George L. Walter, of Columbus. The wedding is planned for June 23d, in Corpus Christi Church. A wedding breakfast will be served at the Charniel. The couple will reside on Wellington Boulevard, where a new home is nearing completion for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Crossen are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter in their home. The little one has been named Mary Elizabeth. Mr. Crossen is an assistant teacher in the cabinet shop at the school.

Miss Dorothea Zorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Zorn, graduates from the Ohio State University this June. She has been a student in the Home Economics Department.

We were handed The Versailles Policy, a weekly paper edited by none other than Mr. Roy B. Conkling, a graduate of our school. Versailles is a prosperous town in a rich agricultural and manufacturing district of Ohio. Mr. Conkling had two fine editorials, one on Memorial Day and another on the Love for the Old Home Town.

Mr. George K. Karb, who served several terms as Mayor of Columbus and a most successful business man, was a visitor at the school, June 1st, and was much interested in Miss Feasleys' classwork and Miss Masons' class in rhythm. Mr. Karb has always been a good friend of the deaf.

Mr. Robert Bolton has been given night work on The Columbus Dispatch, thus making three deaf men employed on Ohio's biggest daily. The other two are Messrs. Myles and Chester B. Huffman.

Mr. Wayne LeBar, of Gallaudet College, informs his Ohio friends that he and eight others from college have accepted work at Monmouth Hotel, Spring Lake Beach, N. J., for the summer vacation.

At the last meeting of the Columbus Frats, Mr. Chester B. Huffman was elected delegate to the State convention in Columbus, September 1st, 2d, 3d, and Mr. Israel Crossen was chosen alternate delegate. Chairman Schwartz has appointed Messrs. Herbert Volp, Pat Connolly, Warren Shafer, Basil Grigsby and Jesse Inman as captains for the various convention duties. Efforts are being made to have speakers from the State Insurance and State Employment Departments.

The Columbus Branch, N. A. D., met June 9th, and carried out an interesting program. A reception followed the meeting and light refreshments were served. Final plans were made for the big July Fourth picnic on the Home grounds.

The Columbus Ladies' Aid Society had their annual picnic at the Ohio Home, June 9th. Rain had made the grounds too wet for outdoor enjoyment and the lunch was served in the assembly room. In the afternoon a fine entertainment was given, which amused the residents and members of the society.

In appropriate costumes the following program was carried out:

The New Year	Miss Louise Zorn

She arrived via the airplane and distributed a little treat of bananas, cookies, marshmallows and Dixie cups of ice-cream to all. Needless to say, the residents were highly pleased with the entertainment.

Principal Abernathy is contemplating a trip to Europe. He is to sail the latter part of June.

Mr. Birney Wright, director of athletics at the school, has been tempted by a better salary to leave Ohio to do like work in the Michigan school next year.

June 7th, the school had its annual outing at Olentangy Park, leaving the school at 9:30 A. M. and returning at 5 P. M.

Teachers reported for duty, wearing winter coats and carrying umbrellas, as the morning seemed too cool and threatening for an outing. Dr. Jones had faith in the "no rain on picnic day" and said we would go. Arriving at the park, we were greeted by Old Sol and the day proved a good one.

A nice lunch was served and this was topped off with ice-cream. The children ran wild, enjoying the amusements. In the evening all attended a picture show in the school chapel.
